

A Message from the Bar Association President

Welcome to the United States Court of Federal Claims Bar Association. The mission of the Association is to assist its members in the public and private bar to be more effective advocates before the Court: to educate them in its rules and procedures; to introduce them to its Judges, Clerk's Office and other practitioners; and to provide them with opportunities to participate in activities sponsored by the Bar Association and by the Court itself.

We are pleased to sponsor the Court's upcoming 17th Judicial Conference, at the St. Regis Hotel in Washington, D.C., on November 9-10, 2004. We are honored to have one of our Board Members for 2003-04, George Miller, recently elevated to the bench of the Court of Federal Claims. And we note with pride that our immediate-past President, John Euler, is continuing his public service by serving in Iraq as Director of International Litigation. Please peruse these pages, and join the CFC Bar Association or become an active member.

Sincerely,
David A. Churchill
