Pursuant to the representations made in the PSC's document filed on April 9, 2007, and the discussion at the status conference held on April 13, 2007, we hereby extend, until April 30, 2007, the PSC's time for designating the second and third "test cases" regarding the PSC's first "general causation theory." We also extend, until May 21, 2007, the PSC's time for filing expert reports in each of those cases.
