UNPUBLISHED DECISION¹

David M. Paris, Esq., Piro, Zinna, et al., Nutley, NJ, for Petitioner;
Michael P. Milmoe, Esq., U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, D.C., for Respondent.

Petitioners Pavel and Tiffany Lee Srnensky, parents of Ninalee Srnensky, filed an application for attorneys' fees and costs on November 17, 2010. The Court awards the amount to which respondent has not objected.

Petitioners claimed that the mumps-measles-rubella varicella vaccine (MMRV) caused an adverse reaction in their daughter and received compensation based upon the parties' proffer. Decision, filed August 4, 2010. Because petitioners received compensation, they are entitled to an award of attorneys' fees and costs. 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-15(e).

All decisions of the special masters will be made available to the public unless they contain trade secrets or commercial or financial information that is privileged and confidential, or medical or similar information whose disclosure would clearly be an unwarranted invasion of privacy. When such a decision or designated substantive order is filed, the person submitting the information has 14 days to identify and to move to delete such information before the document's disclosure. If the special master agrees that the identified material fits within the categories listed above, the special master shall redact such material from public access. 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-12(d)(4)(B); Vaccine Rule 18(b).

Petitioner seek a total of $105,000.00 in attorneys' fees and costs for petitioner's counsel. Additionally, petitioners filed a statement of costs in compliance with General Order No. 9, stating that they have not incurred any out-of-pocket expenses while pursuing this claim. Petitioners state that the firm of Piro, Zinna, Cifelli, Paris & Genitempo, P.C. paid all costs and expenses associated with the prosecution of the claim. Respondent stated that she had no objection to this application for attorneys' fees and costs.

After reviewing the request, the court awards $105,000.00 in attorneys' fees and other litigation costs. The court thanks the parties for their cooperative efforts in resolving this matter.

The Clerk shall enter judgment accordingly.²

IT IS SO ORDERED.
